RACING IN NEW YORK.

"August Belmont, who was elected president of the Jockey Club at a meeting of the stewards at 173 Fifth avenue on Monday, will take a more active part in racing this year than he did last. Mr. Belmont's temporary retirement from the turf was caused by the death of his wife in 1898, and while he was in retirement James R. Keene, vice-president of the club, directed the affairs of racing. Mr. Keene was re-elected along with Mr. Belmont on Monday, as indeed were all of the other officials that have been serving for the past few years. Their re-election has given general satisfaction, too, for their management has been all that it could be. They took the sport after it had been discredited in a bitter political and social crusade, and by careful attention to its details they put it on a higher plane than it ever occupied before.

"The whole business has been so thoroughly systematized under their direction that there is small danger of its falling into evil repute again. Racing in New York state is now conducted under the direction of a central bureau, as it should have been from the beginning. The central bureau is known as the Jockey Club, which is responsible to the State Racing Commission. As Mr. Belmont is at the head of the State Racing Commission as well as the president of the Jockey Club, the management of the sport has a legal status which it did not have before. That is why it is so well managed and why the vaguest hints from the appointed agents of the Jockey Club have more effect now than the most high-sounding commands of the old managers of the game had. Betting is conducted in such a manner as to keep the gambling feature well in the background, but the interests of the bettors are just as well taken care of as they were formerly. The Jockey Club has a splendid detective system, with Robert Pinkerton at its head, and its efforts are intelligently seconded by the association of bookmakers known as the Metropolitan Turf Association," says the New York Sun.

"This organization comprises all the best known layers of odds, and is a well-ordered concern. The abandonment of the check or token system led to some confusion at first, but bettors and layers alike soon adjusted themselves to the altered conditions, and betting by the new method is conducted as smoothly as it was before. There is less noise about the new method. Men do not get upon platforms and bawl out odds and vie with each other in the offering of attractive odds, which used to offend the delicate sensibilities of the casual visitors at the track in the old days. There was some welching at first on the part of the bookmakers, but the Metropolitan Turf Association soon suppressed it with a firm hand where its members were concerned, and Robert Pinkerton as quickly weeded out the bad ones among the hardlers; that is, the dead-line operators, who are not recognized by the Metropolitan Turf Association.

"The credit scheme of betting and settling up the next day developed many welchers among the bettors, too, but that sort of thing has all disappeared now. The Metropolitan Turf Association keeps tab on the bettors just as organizations of merchant tailors keep tab on men about town who buy clothes on credit.

"When a bettor positively refuses to pay his bets he is posted in the association. The posting consists of the communication of the delinquent's name by the member who has been beaten to the other members. When a man's name is passed around in this way his chances of getting credit quickly disappear, and if he wishes to continue his operations he must pay cash. The welchers are generally small players. Big gamblers realize too well the value of a reputation for punctuality to allow any of their obligations to go to protest.

"The layers have got so used to the new system now that they don't care to return to the old one. The principal advantage of it is that, since the credit system has come into vogue, they do a bigger business and make more money. It requires more capital, to be sure, but they do not mind that. The big bookmakers now have to keep handy anywhere from $40,000 to $100,000, when from $20,000 to $30,000 used to answer. Not being able to see what their neighbors were doing caused confusion at first, but that difficulty was overcome by the employment of quick and intelligent runners. It rarely happens nowadays that a layer is caught out of line. The layers no longer pay a regular tribute of so much a head to the racing associations, as they used to, because that would be illegal. Their contribution goes to the clubs in the shape of purchase money for tickets, the Turf Association buying so many a day at the regular box-office prices. Disputes as to bets are regulated by a special committee of layers, but disputes do not often occur. Race track bettors rarely claim what does not belong to them, and members of the Metropolitan Turf Association are not in the habit of withholding what rightfully belongs to a bettor. The Jockey Club, of course, keeps an eye on the ring and sees to it that things do not get beyond control.

"This management of the betting ring was one of the most difficult problems which confronted the stewards of the Jockey Club when they first assumed the direction of affairs. Under the restrictions of the racing law it looked as though it was going to be a difficult task. There was no precedent to guide the stewards, but the ingenuity of some of the layers rose superior to the difficulty, and the rudimentary idea of the present scheme was adopted. The present almost perfect system is the result of many alterations and additions to the original crude scheme.

"In selecting track officers for next season the stewards did not go farther than last year's roster. All the old men were reappointed. Christopher Fitzgerald will be starter; Colonel R. W. Simmons and Clarence McDowell, judges at the finish; Walter S. Vosburgh, handicapper; H. G. Crickmore, clerk of the scales; W. H. Barretto, timer, and J. L. Hall, paddock and patrol judge.

"Mr. Fitzgerald's reappointment is generally approved of. His work last season was first-class. There were a few kickers, but kickers are to be expected. From the beginning of the season to the end Mr. Fitzgerald had the jockeys under excellent control, and in most races despatched his fields promptly and in good order. The start of the Futurity was the best seen hereabouts in years. There were more than a score of horses in the field, yet they came away from the post at the first break in almost perfect alignment. There was not the difference of half a length between the foremost and the hindmost horses when the field passed the timer's flag. The use of a barrier was objected to by many, but it has not been abolished by the Jockey Club. The Jockey Club leaves to the several associations the question as to what kind of a starting device, if any at all is employed, shall be used at their tracks."

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Sunday says: "A special meeting of the Queen City Jockey Club directors was held yesterday, at which change of schedule for the Newport spring meeting was discussed.

"From what transpired yesterday it is now evident that there will likely be a clash between Newport, Memphis and Louisville.

"The Newport people are strongly in favor of racing several weeks more than first announced, and the chances are that a thirty-eight-day meeting will be held.

"No definite action was taken at yesterday's meeting, but the gentlemen most heavily interested in the affairs of the track are advocating a longer meeting in spite of the opposition offered by the two leading tracks of the south.

"Last season Newport raced nearly six weeks, but owing to the unsettled condition of the sport and the proposed plan for the Turf Congress to take charge of the racing dates the Newport management concluded to do its share toward curtailing the local dates this spring. The Turf Congress meeting did not materialize, and the local tracks were left to pick their own dates.

"Neither Memphis nor Louisville made any concessions, and in fact never do, to the tracks around Cincinnati. There is no good reason why Newport should not have some say in the date question. Anyhow, the indications are that a conflict is on, and decisive action on the part of the Queen City Jockey Club officials is anxiously looked for.

"A gentleman who is well up in the affairs of Newport yesterday gave out the following statement regarding the situation:

"As is well known, Newport has all along been making concessions to other tracks down the line, and we are fast getting tired of it. Our racing plant is as valuable as any of those located in the Southern country. We have been very fortunate in securing the best of the western racing stables for our meetings. True, we have no stakes, but that is no reason why we should always have to take a back seat.

"Right now we have applications from many well known owners at New Orleans who are anxious to race at Newport in preference to either Louisville or Memphis. They have been at New Orleans all winter, and want to get up north in the spring. If Newport decides to fight the other tracks down the line there will be no backing down on our part."

Keith & Patton's string, in training at Memphis, is composed of the following members:

Maud Wallace, ch. f, 3, by Regalis—Miss Birdie.

Alice Turner, b. f, 3, by Regalis—Lady Glyde.

Lizzie Turner, ch. f, 3, by Regalis—Bettie Whirl.

Jim Turner, b. g, 3, by Regalis—Golds.

Dr. Cave, b. c, 3, by Regalis—Maud B.

Plutocrat, b. c, 2, by Freeman—Gold Bug.

Kate Freeman, ch. f, 2, by Freeman—Kittie R.

Free Annie, b. f, 2, by Freeman—Annie L.

Maccada, b. f, 2, by Freeman—Sadie Mack.

Emily Oliver, b. f, 2, by Freeman—Ethel Gray.

Fregenas, b. f, 2, by Freeman—Golds.

Birdie Stone, ch. f, 2, by Gold Stone—Miss Birdie.

Golden Cross, blk. f, 2, by Gold Stone—Cross Patch.

Alalia, ch. g, 2, by Gold Stone—Ala Lilac.

Billy Bug, b. g, 2, by Billy Gilmore—Bettie Bug.

Senator J. S. O'Brien's horses arrived at Memphis recently in good condition. The Stillwater turfman's string is as follows:

Czarowitz, b. g, 6, by Martenhurst—Mabel F.

Duke of Baden, br. c, 4, by Duke of Montrose—Babette.

Easter Card, b. g, 4, by Candlemas—My Own.

Dick Collins, b. c, 4, by Leonatus—Lady of the Lake.

Bert Davis, blk. g, 4, by King Regent—Sarah Davis.

F. F. V. SHOWING WELL.

F. F. V., the one time good race horse, is taking his gallops regularly at Nashville. The well-known veterinary, Dr. D. A. Piatt, of Lexington, Ky., is half owner of the son of Audrain—Tara Blackburn, having acquired his interest in the horse for the care, keep and veterinary bill. F. F. V. had been a dead load of expense on his owner, E. F. Simms, for over two years, and, although fired and well treated for his ailments, gave every indication of breaking down. In the middle of last summer Dr. Piatt expressed the opinion that he had a chance with another system of treatment to stand training. Simms, probably disgusted with the horse and the low bill of expense including a large purchase price, offered the doctor a half interest in the horse if he would bring him to Kentucky and give him the necessary treatment. All last summer F. F. V. stood in plaster of paris bandages, which besides blisters and liniments was the principal factor in the proposed system of treatment. Along in the middle of the fall the results of the hard work and care which had been applied were apparent. F. F. V.'s legs looked better and freer from unsoundness than they had at any time since his two-year-old form. This winter the horse was sent to Billy Weir, who, by the way, has earned quite a reputation by his past work with crippled horses, and his trainer has a very favorable impression of the horse's chance to train. Of course there is nothing sure about any horse standing a hard preparation when his legs have been in as bad a shape as F. F. V.'s, but hazarding a guess on what the horse is doing in the way of long gallops and pulling up sound, one would say that there was a great likelihood of both owners and trainer being well rewarded for their trouble. For should he go to the post in good order and as good as he once was, it would require a close search to find horses in the west that could do any business with F. F. V.—Thoroughbred Record.

FITZGERALD FOR MEMPHIS.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Feb. 5.—C. J. Fitzgerald has been engaged by the Memphis Jockey Club to do the starting at its spring meeting.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Weary of waiting for an allotment of racing dates for the coming season, G. F. Walbaum, president of the Saratoga Association, has gone to Hot Springs, Ark., for a six weeks' trip. It is probable that the Jockey Club stewards will announce dates at its regular meeting next week. The task of dividing the month of September equitably between the Coney Island, Brooklyn and Empire (the Clark track) clubs for fall meetings is reported to be a difficult one. The Washington Jockey Club claims spring dates from April 2 to 14, and the Westchester Association from May 5 to 24.—New York Herald.

P. Lorillard's Rancocas Stud, New Jersey, has purchased of J. E. Seagram, Waterloo, Can., the chestnut horse Marauder, foaled 1885, by Rayon d'Or—Maudina, by Australian—Maud, by Stockwell, and he goes into the stud at Rancocas, where, with his royal breeding, he should make a successful sire.

There is a three-cornered race under arrangement at Oakland that will be a hotly-contested one. F. W. Brode, with 114; Yellow Tail, 121, and Advance Guard, 121. The respective owners will put up $250 each and want the Jockey Club to put up a $1,000 purse.

Dr. Rowell will dispose of by auction on February 9, in the paddock at Oakland, the well-known race horses Satsama, Whitcomb, Sybaris, Blooming Chance, Dr. Brays and Tom Cromwell.

Winner—Br. m. by Major Domo—Blithesome.
Went to post at 2:30. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won handily. The next three were driving. Blithesome swung to the outside on the stretch turn and drew away without effort in the run home. She was well in hand all the way. Sallie J. tired in the last fifty yards. Reeper was closing fast at the end. Lady Dora ran well. Sister Fox was badly ridden and with a more skilful rider up might have won. Josephine B. was kicked on the knee while at the post and withdrawn. Bets were declared off and twenty minutes was allowed for a new book.
Scratched—10975 Nat P., 98; 16589 Banker Green, 99; 16425 Josephine B., 38; (16495) Race-bud, 85.

Overweights—Sallie J., 2 1/2 pounds; Lemoon, 2 1/2.

Winner—Bk. c. by Top Gallant—Vesper.
Went to post at 3:30. At post 5 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Tip Gallant made a runaway race of it. Albertvale dropped out of it on the backstretch, but came again at the end. Julius Caesar showed much improvement. He was right there at the end and would have been third in another stride. Admetus was poorly handled. Lucky Monday was interfered with on the first turn.
Scratched—(16571) Rush Fields, 114; (16554) Lady of the West, 102; 16425 Elidad, 99; 16571 Phidias, 96; 16535 Sun God, 94.

Winner—B. c. by Knight of Ellerslie—Dearest.
Went to post at 4:35. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second handily. The light weight favored Strangest and he drew away without an effort at the end. Compensation ran his race. He had no excuses. Our Nellie ran her race. Prospero was worn out chasing Strangest and quit at the end of six furlongs.
Scratched—(16534) Andes, 113; 16558 Mint Sauce, 111.

Winner—Ch. g. by The Sailor Prince—Aster.
Went to post at 4:35. At post 2 minutes. Start bad. Won easily; second driving. Pat Garrett and Scottish Grit raced each other into exhaustion and Jim Conway was drawing away in the run home. Richards made his move too soon with The Burlington Route. He might have won had his rider waited a bit longer.
Scratched—16060 Belle of Holmdel, 102.

Winner—B. g. by Gorman—Dolly.
Went to post at 5:00. At post 15 minutes. Start good. Won cleverly. The next three were driving to the limit. Agitator, Aratoma and Ed Gartland II. were worn out in setting a hot pace and tired in the stretch. Jim Gore II. came away with a little hustling. He was best ridden of the lot. Miss Ross was being second in another stride. Aratoma ran away a half mile in a false break.
Scratched—16585 Debride, 108; (16585) Nekarnis, 104; (16433) Judge Wardell, 101; (16439) Lord Neville, 100; 16523 Dollie Wiethoff, 99; 16500 Ben Frost, 97.
